

THE DEVON&DEVON FLAGSHIP STORE IN MILAN ALSO BECOMES A CO-WORKING SPACE

Renewed, enriched by the new products presented during the Salone del Mobile exhibition and increasingly open to the city and to the professional sector: from June, the historic Devon&Devon showroom in Via San Marco will also become a co-working space.

Architects, designers and contractors will be able to work, meet their clients and liaise with other colleagues around the tables of the flagship store's splendid winter garden in the heart of Brera.

"It is a decision coherent with our intention to grow increasingly closer to the professionals in the world of home decor", says Nicola Bertini, General Manager at Devon&Devon. "We would like our Milan showroom," explains CEO Graziano Verdi, "to become an international reference point for all those who love to design beautiful things in beautiful surroundings".

The workstations, equipped with Wi-Fi, can be booked by calling the store management directly.
