A LIMITED EDITION BATHTUB AND TAP CELEBRATING THE FIRST 30 YEARS OF THE BRAND

Established in 1989, Devon&Devon is celebrating its 30th anniversary. To mark this occasion, it brings you two limited edition products which recovers the best of tradition and reinterprets it as a great contemporary classic.

Aurora30 and Morris30 are exclusive creations which reinterpret two icons of the Devon&Devon collections in an openly refined fashion. These are the Aurora tub and the Morris tap, which feature a natural material which is as beautiful as it is rare: Portoro marble.

Portoro marble is an extremely refined black marble extracted from very few caves concentrated in a small area between the regions of Tuscany and Liguria. For millennia, it has been used in the most prestigious constructions, from imperial Roman villas to noble Genoese palazzos, and from magnificent Italian Baroque churches to sumptuous French castles.

The Aurora30 bathtub preserves the neo-romantic inspiration, elegant mouldings, sinuous design and compact size of the original.

What's new and surprising are the materials and colour schemes: the frame of the bathtub, which is in polished black White Tec paste, features an extremely thin layer of aluminium in a platinum finish applied by hand and protected by a transparent opaque varnish.

The base - which has a clear sculptural effect - is made entirely from Portoro marble and features the marble's trademark intense and shiny black hue with golden veins.

The Morris30 tap, with its 40s-inspired design, is another great Devon&Devon classic which has been revamped with hand-made levers, diverter and shower handle in Portoro marble.

The decision to use such a precious material is a testament to the unconditional love of the brand towards refined details and the skilful craftsmanship of small production teams whose know-how has been passed down from one generation to the next like a treasure.

Aurora30 and Morris30 belong to a limited edition numbered collection - there are only 30 available in total. (Price for the public: € 30,000 for the bathtub + tap).
