CREATED IN FLORENCE. INSPIRED BY THE WORLD.

Family home, Guethary

Just south of Biarritz, a creative couple have transformed a neo-Basque house into a retreat rich in nostalgic references and refined contemporary style.

Camille (who works in fashion) and Victor (a film producer) have preserved the original terracotta and wooden floors, boldly contrasting them with the unusual colours of the wall finishes and the varied textures of woven rugs and cushions.

The same sophisticated atmosphere defines the spacious main bathroom too. Here, vibrant ceramic tiles and the graceful 1950s style of the White Rose taps reflect a deeply personal and authentic way of turning a house into a home.
